RE: Suspension of Residency Requirement For Applicants

If you are interested in applying for positions with the State of Hawaii's Department of Human Resources Development (DHRD), please be advised that effective February 1, 2006, DHRD will not reject applications from non-residents due to their lack of Hawaii residency at the time of application.

DHRD is in the process of updating all paper and on-line applications, recruitment announcements, and information. Until all of our materials can be updated to reflect this change, existing materials may continue to reflect the previous residency requirement, but it will not be enforced for applications processed on or after February 1, 2006.

Should you eventually be hired by the State of Hawaii, please be advised that Hawaii law continues to require that all State employees be Hawaii residents for the duration of their employment with the State. Haw. Rev. Stat. § 78-1(c).
